MUSEUM OF AVIATION FOUNDATION THANKS COMMUNITY PARTNERS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS FOR UPCOMING YOUNG ASTRONAUTS' DAY

WARNER ROBINS, GA – The National STEM Academy at the Museum of Aviation will hold the 28th Georgia Annual Young Astronauts' Day on May 6.

Young Astronauts' Day is the largest educational event of the year with over 250 students expected to be in attendance. Over 80 scholarships were handed out for the annual event.

Sponsors for the scholarships include: The Museum of Aviation Foundation, the NASA Operation STEM Grant, International City Optimist Club, Sims Macon, and Raytheon.

Thanks to other generous sponsors and volunteers, more scholarships were given for summer camps as well.

The annual event is for students in grades 1st through 8th. Pre-registration is required but parents do not have to accompany their children throughout the day. Students are provided pizza for lunch and a t-shirt.

Registration for Young Astronauts' Day is still ongoing. Packets can be found at <http://www.museumofaviation.org/moaevents/young-astronauts-day-2/>. For more information, please contact Candi James at (478) 926-5558 or by e-mail at cjames@museumofaviation.org.
